

Code of Expectations

For Launchpad Champions Presenters

It is a privilege to be invited into a kura (school) to offer a Launchpad Champions programme. Therefore, we expect all Launchpad Champions Presenters to abide by the following Code of Expectations:

1. Become an accredited Launchpad Champions Presenter by:
  - a. Completing at least five modules of the online training course
  - b. Signing our Code of Expectations every three years
  - c. Undergoing Police Vetting every three years
  - d. Obtaining a Character Reference every three years
2. Respect and uphold the principles of the Treaty of Waitangi, te Tiriti o Waitangi.
3. Present from a Launchpad Aotearoa New Zealand approved curriculum.
4. Accept that the purpose of Launchpad Champions is to educate our tamariki about values and give an understanding of Christian heritage.
5. A Launchpad Champions Presenter must not use their position to engage in evangelism.
6. Present positively. Use language that tamariki understand and not religious jargon.
7. Acknowledge that there are other worldviews and respect the variety of experiences and beliefs represented among the tamariki in the class (and their whānau).
8. Always be on time and leave the class in a settled condition. Advise the kura and Team Leader beforehand if you are unable to present.
9. Co-operate with the Principal, kura staff and Launchpad Champions Team Leader in every possible way.
10. Abide by the kura's policies on behaviour management, discipline, safety and emergency procedures.
11. Commit to attending a professional development workshop each year.

Undertaking to be completed in full by the applicant • I agree to work in a voluntary position as a Presenter / Helper (Please Circle) • I agree to comply with the Code of Expectations as stated above • I agree to Co-operate with Launchpad through its staff and committees.
